

Please do not limit XM radio's capabilities through unnecessary government regulation. XM gives subscribers like myself an immense amount of variety through music, news, sports, and weather. On my way to work, I first listen to the weather and traffic conditions (in order to plan my route) and then to bloomberg news. By eliminating their weather and traffic capabilities, you are causing a great inconvenience to me as well as all of the other XM subscribers. XM should be allowed to compete in this market. We live in a capatalistic society fueled by competition among companies. By regulating XM, you are limiting the very competition that makes this country so great. Please consider this before you make any ridiculous regulations.
